

Taneika Goldman is the Deputy Director of the Office of Human Rights at the Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Services. She began her service with the Department in 2006 as a volunteer on the Local Human Rights Committee until she was hired as an advocate in 2013 for the South-side Virginia Training Center and later served at Central State Hospital. Prior to coming to the Office of Human Rights, Mrs. Goldman managed community outreach and foster care programming for a nonprofit service ministry organization based in Roanoke Virginia. She received her Bachelor of Arts degrees in Sociology and Anthropology from Howard University and completed post graduate study at the Baptist Theological Seminary in Richmond. She is currently pursuing a Masters degree in Public Administration. Her greatest joy is sharing life with her husband and three children.
