

Steve Gordon has worked for United States Department of Justice (DOJ) for the last 24 years, most recently as an Assistant United States Attorney with the United States Attorney's Office in the Eastern District of Virginia. As the founder and Coordinator of the US Attorney's Office's District-wide Civil Rights Enforcement Program, Mr. Gordon engages in community outreach, pursues civil rights cases, and provides guidance to less experienced attorneys. He has presented widely on a variety of ADA topics including but not limited to the ADA in the state and local criminal justice system and disability discrimination in health care settings. Mr. Gordon's ADA case work has resulted in settlement agreements with a variety of entities, including Spotsylvania Regional Medical Center, the Arlington County Sheriff's Office, and Fairfax Nursing Center, all of which involved entities that failed to provide sign language interpreting services to individuals who are deaf. He earned his BA from Brandeis University and his JD from Northeastern University School of Law.
