Kelly Burroughs

Kelly Burroughs began serving Jewish Family Services as CEO in September, 2018. She brings strong experience leading social service and behavioral health programs, from both the clinical and administrative sides, and has a passion for the mission of JFS—“to heal the world with loving kindness through just and charitable acts”.

Prior to moving to Virginia Beach, Kelly was Vice President of Clinical Services for Jewish Family and Children’s Services of Southern Arizona, in Tucson, where she worked in partnership with executive leadership, boards of directors, and community leaders to create sustainable programming to diverse populations throughout the southwest. Her work helped shape local and state policies related to human services systems. Additionally, she helped build awareness among community leaders and policymakers on the need to support agencies and programs that serve at-risk populations, especially related to trauma. Prior to her role at JFCS of Southern Arizona, she provided clinical and administrative supervision to advocacy and behavioral health programs serving thousands of people in Southern Arizona.

Kelly holds a Master’s Degree in Rehabilitation Counseling from the University of Arizona, post graduate certification in Positive Behavioral Support from Northern Arizona University, and is a Certified Clinical Trauma Professional.
